

Tucson Citizen

Ex-real estate agent ordered to pay $150K in fraud case

SHERYL KORNMAN

Published: 01.07.2009

A former Tucson real estate agent who pleaded guilty to fraud and forgery last month has been ordered to pay $150,000 by Dec. 31 to settle a claim of consumer fraud and unjust enrichment.

Pima County Superior Court Judge Paul Tang ordered Roy K. Fife, 47, and his wife, Caren Fife, to pay $150,000 of a $500,000 judgment to Alfred L. Marco by the end of this year.

At issue is how Fife handled the sale of a house at 5436 N. Avenida de la Colina.

According to the court documents, Fife forged "various documents" he submitted into escrow accounts.

The property was sold on Dec. 10 in a trustee's sale.

Fife is among 36 Arizonans charged in a crackdown on mortgage and property fraud that led to charges against 406 people nationwide, according to Tucson Citizen archives.
